Terrific Fights Mark GOP Platform Efforts

Form Housing Parents Of Seven Forced And Foreign To Give Away Children Policies

Philadelphia, June 21—(AP)—After what Chairman Henry Cabot Lodge called "terrific fights" on domestic policy, the GOP platform committee overruled a subcommittee tonight and wrote a plank calling for a government-built, low-rent housing program.

As the committee adjourned its tumultuous session for dinner, however, it had not reached a showdown on the foreign plank on which a slam-bang battle is promised. Lodge has described this preliminary plank as the "most international" ever presented to the Republican party.

Against Veto In UN
Lodge disclosed officially that the foreign affairs plank calls for elimination of the veto in United Nations questions involving peaceful settlement of disputes. He said it also urges the setting up of an international peace-keeping force.

Reports circulated that Senator Brooks and other Illinois delegates will seek to modify the foreign plank proposals—and might even carry a fight to the convention floor. Brooks declined to comment, saying he had not yet read the foreign policy proposals.

Lodge said he does not know what the foreign plank language will be when the full 104-member platform committee finishes with it.

Approve Housing Plan
He told reporters the committee approved a public housing plank "roughly similar" to the Taft-Ellender-Wagner housing bill which failed to get through Congress.

The committee met four hours and Lodge said they had some "big arguments over civil rights, housing, and quite a good deal of arguing over agriculture."

Other members said the committee strengthened the civil rights plank contained in the draft prepared by the drafting subcommittee.

Follow Senate on UN Bill
A reporter remarked that in approving public housing the resolutions committee had "repudiated Congress." Lodge shot back: "The Senate passed the Taft-Ellender-Wagner act, but the House didn't."

When the committee gets through with the platform, it will be subject to change on the floor of the Republican national convention, if anyone feels strongly enough to make a fight.

Ask Anti-Red Legislation
Simultaneously, a drive developed to make the preliminary platform draft call for new and severe legislation to control communism—along the lines of the Mundt-Nixon bill.

Trouble also threatened over the farm plank. Platform drafters ready to praise a new farm program pressed through Congress in its closing hours, when Albert S. Gross, master of the National Grange, rushed here from Washington to protest that it contains "too much regimentation."

Suggest Bricker As Missourians Second Choice

Philadelphia, June 21—(AP)—Senator John W. Bricker of Ohio popped up today as a possible second choice of some Missouri delegates in the Republican presidential balloting.

Senator Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan had been credited with considerable secondary strength among the Missouri delegates, but as they milled around today a few began to talk about Bricker.

State Senator W. R. (Fred) Walker of Carrollton said he thought Bricker could get "several of our delegates—maybe quite a few" if his name comes before the convention at a psychological moment.

Missourians have held off thus far from committing themselves to a down-the-line fight. An inconclusive meeting this morning left the delegation in position to hold off and pick a winner later.

POTTER ESTATE IS $294,345

Chicago, June 21—(AP)—The estate of Philip T. Potter, structural engineer who built the old Chicago post office building, was valued at $294,345 in an inheritance tax return filed today in Cook county court.

The bulk of the estate will be divided among three children: a son, William S. Potter of Lafayette, Ind., and to sisters, Mrs. Frances P. White, Detroit, Mich., and Mrs. Patricia P. Roach, Chicago.

SUPPLIES SALES JUNE 22, 23

Chicago, June 21—(AP)—The War Assets Administration today announced two spot bid sales of war surplus at Navy Pier June 22 and 23. About $750,000 worth of equipment, now in warehouses in East Chicago, Hammond, and Gary, Ind., are listed.

KANKAKEE MAN KILLED

Kankakee, Ill., June 21—(AP)—Wallace Snyder, 82, of Kankakee, was killed today when he was struck by an Illinois Central train.

The Norbury Sanatorium, cooperative observer for the U.S. Weather Bureau, yesterday reported official temperature for Monday as: low, 65; high, 86; and at 7 p.m. 80.

Vandenberg Says Candidacy Stand 'Same As Always'

Philadelphia, June 21—(AP)—Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan said tonight his personal attitude toward the Republican presidential nomination "remains the same as always."

He has said many times he is not a candidate for the nomination but has made plain he would accept a draft.

Vandenberg issued a statement calling on the party to "face the facts and give America the forward looking program which our opportunity requires."

The Michigan Senator's statement was handed to reporters by his son, Arthur H. Vandenberg, Jr. Young Vandenberg said his father had arrived in Philadelphia, but would not be immediately available to newsmen.

He added the senator had gone to a private apartment upon arrival from Washington and that he will attend tonight's session of the convention.

Over the week end Governor Kem Sigler of Michigan announced Vandenberg "is available" for the nomination. Sigler emphasized he knew what he was talking about.

Green Blasts 'New Deal' In GOP Keynote Address

High Court Rules For CIO In Political Spending Case

Washington, June 21—(AP)—The Supreme court ruled today that the Taft-Hartley act does not forbid political partisanship in newspapers financed out of labor union funds.

Unanimously the court added that if the law did do that the constitutionality of the ban would be highly questionable.

The case had been intended by both the CIO and the government as a direct test on the validity of the act's general prohibition against political expenditures from union treasuries but in that respect it fell flat. The court said it did not have to go into the constitutionality question to make its ruling. It simply held that the law does not forbid the acts alleged as a violation.

Thus, at the start of the season of heavy political warfare, unions and government are left to make their own guesses as to how far unions may go in political spending. Many unions have planned ambitious programs during the campaigns.

The high court quit for the summer after handing down the ruling so that there is no chance of a definite decision in time for the main campaign weeks. The court next meets again the first Monday in October, which would not allow time to process a new case ahead of the November elections.

Reds Accept Proposal To Discuss Currency

Berlin, Tuesday, June 22—(AP)—The Russians accepted early today a British proposal for four-power discussions of uniform currency reform in Berlin, the Soviet-Licensed German news agency announced.

Berlin is the seat of four-power rule in Germany.

The agency said Marshal Vassily D. Sokolovsky, the Russian commander in Germany, proposed that representatives of the United States, Britain, France and Russia meet at 6 p.m. (6 a.m. C.S.T.) today.

Western Reply Unknown
The western allies' reply to Sokolovsky was not made known immediately, but it was assumed they would accept since the original proposal for the meeting was made last night by Gen. Sir Brian Robertson, the British military governor.

Robertson bluntly told the Russians they had no more rights in Berlin than the western allies.

He suggested to the Soviets that they join a four-power meeting to discuss the currency situation in Berlin which now faces the prospect of two kinds of currency—that introduced beginning Sunday by the allies in western Germany, and currency soon expected to be produced by the Russians in the East.

Harvester Unions Accept, Reject Company Offers

Chicago, June 21—(AP)—One CIO union announced today it would resume plant-by-plant negotiations with the International Harvester company. A second CIO union said it is dissatisfied with the company's 11-cent wage boost offer.

Gerald Fields, director of the I-H council of the United Farm Workers union, said his group would be willing to resume negotiations on a local basis. The company had broken off talks with this union pending settlement of a walkout in Auburn, N.Y.

Fields said the union offer will "test the sincerity of the company."

There was no immediate reaction from company sources, although a spokesman indicated the local negotiation idea had been presented to the company.

The CIO United Automobile Workers union voted the 11 cent offer. A union official said the company had asked contract revision, which the union felt would partly nullify the boost.

Ford Offers Wage Boost; Chrysler Ups Car Prices

Detroit, June 20—(AP)—The CIO United Auto Workers received without comment today an offer by the Ford Motor Co. to raise wages of its 110,000 employees by 11 to 14 cents an hour.

At the same time, Chrysler Corp., which recently granted its 90,000 employees a 13 cent increase, raised its passenger car prices.

Ford already had raised the prices of its cars. So had Hudson, Packard, Studebaker and Nash.

Chrysler did not disclose the exact amount of the price boost. It indicated Plymouth prices would go up from $440 to $450 and Dodge prices by 6 1/2 percent.

Ford told the UAW-CIO it was ready to add 14 cents to the wages of all employees making $1.50 or more an hour. Those making less would get an 11 cent boost. The average production wage now is estimated at about $1.50 an hour.

A few weeks ago, Ford asked the UAW-CIO to forego a wage increase this year, suggesting that a cut in wages even might be advisable. The union had asked 30 cents an hour increase.

Ford told the union its wage offer was a "maximum package." It explained that union demands for pensions, medical insurance, guaranteed weekly wage, night shift bonus, paid lunch period and the like must either be shelved or paid for out of the 11-14 cents.

Negotiations were recessed today until 9 a.m., EST Wednesday.

The sun shines hottest on ice-covered mountain peaks.

Keynote Speaker Governor Hails Split In Demos

GOV. DWIGHT H. GREEN

Convention Hall, Philadelphia, June 21—(AP)—Illinois Gov. Dwight H. Green blasted the "New Deal party" tonight as a fast-splitting alliance held together in the past by "bosses, boodles, buncombe and blarney."

About the only promises it ever kept, he said in the keynote speech of the Republican national convention, were "those it gave to Joe Stalin."

Palestine Policy 'Farce'
Green charged that the Truman administration is squandering the victory of World War II. He said its "political maneuvering" in Palestine is a "tragic farce," and he charged that its "confused and incompetent" leadership "imposed on America the burden of supporting western Europe."

The "cold war," Green said, is "the lusty child of the new deal's rendezvous with communism."

Pointing straight at President Truman, the governor said America cries out for a chief executive "who had administered something more than a county board of supervisors under the shadow of a corrupt political machine."

Address Reflects Platform
The prepared address by the Illinois governor, himself a "favorite son" in the presidential race, was intended to set the theme of the convention and reflect the platform on which the Republicans hope to name a winner for the first time since 1928.

Green spotlighted two parts of that program: full pocketbooks for Americans and help for peoples abroad to "check the spread of communism and to aid freedom in Europe."

He said the heart of GOP policy will be "to check the spread of slavery in the world."

But he added: "We cannot permanently support the world. Our task is to put the world on its feet, not on our back."

States Republican Aims
In quick one-two-three order the keynote told what the Republicans would do in the next four years—strip the public payroll of communists and "pinkies" and "regimentation," give the nation a foreign service whose voice would be heard with respect throughout the world.

"Our best answer to communism will be a sound America, in which all the people shall enjoy the prosperity produced by our free economy, and which shall offer effective cooperation to free men throughout the world," said Green.

Detailing some GOP hopes, Green said:

Will Guard Freedom
"We shall guard carefully the freedom of speech and thought of every American, but we shall expose every subversive individual and organization . . .

Our Republican leadership . . . will replace the new deal's shadow-boxing on the issue of civil rights with sound measures to make America, more truly than ever before, the happy land of opportunity."

Higher Federal Payroll Proposal Sent To Truman

Washington, June 21—(AP)—Most federal workers will get bigger paychecks beginning July 1 if President Truman approves.

Approximately 480,000 postal employees would get a raise of $450 a year and 850,000 workers with civil service classification $330 a year.

Congress sent the bill to Mr. Truman in the early hours Sunday after the House and Senate had trounced their differences.

To finance part of the postal workers' raise, congress voted to increase some postal rates, effective next Jan. 1. The increases: air mail, 5 to 6 cents; third class bulk mail, up 1 cent; a pound; special delivery stamps, 13 to 15 cents. In addition, a new four-cent air mail postal card will be introduced.

ISRAELI FORCES CLASH

Tel Aviv, Israel, June 21—(AP)—An armed clash between Israel's regular army and the extremist Irgun Zvai Leumi organization was reported tonight in a government communique.

The communique said a boat had landed on the coast of Palestine carrying Irgun arms.

Delivery Of Food To England Slowed By Dockers' Strike

London, June 21—(AP)—The Ministry of Labor told the House of Commons today that London's eight-day-old dock workers strike is threatening delivery of essential food supplies and hampering Britain's export drive.

Ness Edwards, the ministry's parliamentary secretary, said a meeting has been called by the docks' trade union for tomorrow in an effort to halt the unauthorized walkout which now involves 19,000 workers out of a normal total of 27,000.

The strike started last Monday in sympathy with 11 dockers who were disciplined for refusing to handle a cargo of zinc oxide without extra pay.

Proposed Church Merger Postponed By Heated Debate

Oberlin, Ohio, June 21—(AP)—The Congregational Christian churches general council was on the verge of uniting today with the Evangelical and reformed church when a minority move threw the biennial meeting into heated debate and caused adjournment until tomorrow without a decision.

A new report of the interchurch relations and Christian unity commission was given by Attorney David K. Ford of Cleveland. It raised high hopes among 2,000 council delegates that a united Church of Christ with nearly 2,000,000 members might be achieved at the morning session.

But harmony which prevailed early in the session exploded abruptly. The council passed, almost unanimously, a motion by Dr. Frederick M. Meek of Old South Church, Boston, to approve the basis of union on condition it be interpreted in accordance with eight paragraphs in today's report of the commission.

When Dr. Goebel explained the eight interpretative paragraphs would not delay merger or cause a new vote in his denomination unless the council made a condition for its approval of the basis of union, the council reversed itself by voting to reconsider Dr. Meek's motion.

Pay Hike Granted By Westinghouse

Pittsburgh, June 21—(AP)—Approximately 70,000 production and salaried employees of Westinghouse Electric Corp. will receive an eight percent wage increase under an agreement announced last night by the corporation and the CIO United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers.

The agreement—subject to ratification of U. E. locals by July 1—prior approval by the union's policy board—provides that the increase be retroactive to June 11, date of an original six percent offer made by Westinghouse.

The 70,000 employees work in more than 20 plants where the UE holds bargaining rights.

TRAINS COLLIDE IN CHICAGO

Chicago, June 21—(AP)—Six persons were injured, none seriously, today when an Illinois central suburban train collided with a standing train in the downtown Randolph street terminal. All were taken to the Illinois Central hospital where they were treated and released.

First Native Indian Governor General Sworn In Monday

New Delhi, June 21—(AP)—India's first native governor general was sworn into office today, completing the last step to self-rule in this British dominion.

Amid oriental pomp 69-year-old Chakravarti Rajagopalachari, Hindu lawyer and politician, assumed the governor generalship.

He succeeded Britain's Lord Mountbatten, to whom some 100,000 Indians bade farewell publicly and with affection yesterday.

The new governor general, known affectionately as "C. R.," was a confidante and close friend of the late Mohandas K. Gandhi, India's ascetic religious leader. His daughter married Gandhi's son, Devadas.

Englishman Says Radiation No Sure Cure For Cancer

Chicago, June 21—(AP)—An English surgeon, Sir Stanford Reed, declared today radiation is not a cancer cure-all and should not be used to the exclusion of surgery.

"Similarly," he said, "radiation should not be used to the exclusion of X-rays to the exclusion of radium; both methods have their advantages in certain sites; they are often complementary."

"If the benefits of treatment are to be obtained to the fullest measure, it is important to recognize the limitations of each method. No radiotherapy department can be adequate without facilities for both radium and X-ray therapy and a specialist trained in the use of both, and eager to use all methods."

Sir Stanford delivered the Janevsky lecture at the 30th annual meeting of the American Radium Society. He was awarded the 1948 Janevsky medal given annually by the society for outstanding contributions to the field of radiotherapy.

Bloomington Youth Admits Beating Veteran To Death

Bloomington, Ill., June 21—(AP)—Authorities said today they have a signed statement in which Robert Mears, 21, of Bloomington, Ill., related the fatal beating of Bruce A. Hudgens, 26.

Sheriff Curtis M. Gilbert of McLean county said no formal charge had been placed against Mears as yet.

Hudgens, a former paratrooper, was clothed in a pair of shorts and blue denim work pants when his body was found in a Bloomington cemetery Saturday.

Sheriff Gilbert said Mears gave the following story of the beating: Mears, his brother, Lloyd, Hudgens and Howard Yandall of Heyworth, Ill., were on their way to Bloomington in a car driven by Yandall. Mears and Hudgens started to argue in the back seat and Yandall stopped the car.

Hudgens got out and started to run. Mears raced after him and struck him, knocking him down. Then Mears put Hudgens in the back seat and went to the cemetery where the body was dumped near a receiving vault.

The sheriff said Robert Mears denied robbing Hudgens.

Lloyd Mears was being held in custody as police sought Yandall.

RUSSIA'S BERLIN SQUEEZE PLAY AIMS AT CONTROL OF GERMANY

Russia is making a fresh attempt to drive the western Allies out of Berlin. The efforts may seem to take petty and childish forms—the sit-down in the Soviet-British-sector radio station, the flimsy excuses for blocking rail and motor traffic, and so on. But the Kremlin clearly isn't playing for petty stakes. The prize is Germany, and control of Berlin would give the Russians a big advantage. As a city, it hardly seems worth fighting for. But as a symbol, Berlin in Russian hands would probably make a deep impression on the German people. For though their Reich and all its glory are gone, and though their capital city is in ruins, Berlin is still Berlin.

The Russians' sole occupation of the city might raise the hack of the "unified" Germany that they are trying to sell. Already there seem to be a lot of prospective buyers. After all, the Germany that voted Hitler to power in a free and honest election wouldn't fear a dictatorship as would a country with democratic traditions—so long as a new dictatorship would let the Germans feel and act important and treat them no more cruelly than the Nazis did.

Since Berlin is surrounded by the Soviet zone, the Russian squeeze play is not hard to work. If it comes to a point of driving the western forces out of the city, the Reds could do it with little trouble. Yet the western Allies seem determined to stick it out.

There are two evident reasons for this. One is the unwillingness to give Russia a clear-cut advantage in her effort to divide and conquer Germany. The joint administration of Berlin has long since become a fiction; a place of four-power control there are two hostile camps. But voluntary withdrawal would be a surrender to the Soviet design.

The other reason is that as long as Allied troops and administrators are in Berlin, the Russian efforts to oust them are daily reminders that Marshal Stalin is trying to repudiate his solemn agreement with the heads of the American and British governments at Potsdam. Those efforts may impress the Germans. But to thinking people of free Europe they are a demonstration of Russian dishonesty.

Even if the six-power program for a western German government is carried out, France, Great Britain and the U. S. would probably keep their forces in Berlin. Their presence would continue to serve notice that it was Russia that forced the setting up of a western-zone government, and that the final settlement of Germany's fate is a four-power problem.

Physically it is true, as the Russians say, that the four-power setup in Berlin is senseless from the western standpoint. The personnel of the three nations must be supplied from considerable distance and at much expense. But strategically it is important that the Russians be watched at close range wherever possible. And diplomatically it is important to show that the Potsdam Agreement, whether practical or not, still stands, and that if anybody is going to break it it will be the Soviet government.

Will Russia resort to force and seize Berlin? It seems unlikely. For such a move would be the signal for another world war, with Russia clearly the aggressor. And unless conditions have suddenly changed in the Soviet Union, the Kremlin doesn't want that war—at least not yet.

Millions Homeless In Japan

Noel Rousey's Talent Impresses Recital Audience

An enthusiastic audience heard the piano recital of Noel Rousey Sunday afternoon in the MacMurray Music Hall. Listeners were impressed by the poise and assurance, as well as by the authoritative interpretations of the young musician who is endowed with facility and also a sensitive insight.

A commanding introduction was made with Bach's Prelude and Fugue in C minor from the second book of the Well Tempered Clavier. The prelude possessed a toccata-like brilliance, which was realized with ease and fluency, while the Fugue, in contrast, was solemn and majestic.

The Mozart Sonata in C major, K. 330, which followed, was played with fine polish and clarity. Especially noteworthy was the Andante Contabile, serene and contemplative. The most ambitious undertaking of the program was the delightfully descriptive Carnival Franks in Vienna of Robert Schumann. The opening Allegro, filled with rhythmic vitality, the tender and wistful

A. C. Roebuck Dies
In Chicago; Once
Visited This City

The death of Alvah Curtis Roebuck, 84, co-founder of Sears, Roebuck & Co., which occurred June 18 in Chicago, served to recall his visit to Jacksonville 12 years ago when the present Sears store on the north side of the square was opened.

Mr. Roebuck, whose home was in Tujunga, Calif., died in Michael Reese hospital after a short illness. He had been visiting his daughter, Mrs. Raymond H. Keeler, in Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Roebuck came to Jacksonville on the occasion of the formal opening of the Sears store. He shook hands with several thousand persons during a stay of two or three days.

Roebuck and his partner, Richard W. Sears, founded the famous merchandising company in 1891. Ill health forced his retirement a number of years ago, but he improved and engaged extensively in the real estate business and at one time headed a typewriter factory at Woodstock, Ill. He rejoined Sears, Roebuck & Co. in 1933 in a public relations capacity, resigning in 1940. Funeral services will be held Tuesday afternoon in Chicago.

Farmers Welcome
Summer's First
Heavy Rainfall

Springfield, Ill., June 21—(AP)—A seven weeks dry spell in the central Illinois crop belt was broken today by a "fairly heavy" rain, the weather bureau said.

A. J. Surratt, federal crop statistician, said it was a "wonderful" rain of particular benefit to pastures and late planted crops.

"Corn growth will come along now with good weather and many fields will be 18 to 20 inches high by the Fourth of July," Surratt said.

The weather bureau said the rainfall in the Springfield area was expected to exceed the 1.07 inches of May 2, the last sizeable amount in nearly two months.

Chicago, June 21—(AP)—Summer arrived today but in many sections it came dripping wet.

Rain—welcomed by farmers—fell over lower Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, the Dakotas, Iowa, northern Missouri, Illinois, Indiana and parts of Oklahoma and Kansas.

The rains in the Great Lakes and northern plains states kept temperatures there a little below seasonable.

The forecast for Tuesday was continued warm in the south and cloudy and a little warmer in the midwest.

Betty Stone Weds Merle Fitzsimmons

Couple United In Afternoon Rites At Grace Church

The solemn beauty of glowing tapers, arranged amidst a setting of potted palms and spring flowers, provided a lovely background for the marriage of Miss Betty Stone and Merle Fitzsimmons, which was solemnized Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at Grace Methodist church.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by the pastor, the Rev. Frank Marston, before a large gathering of friends and relatives.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Stone, 712 West Douglas avenue. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Fitzsimmons of Ashland.

"Because," "Thine Alone" and "The Lord's Prayer" were sung before the ceremony by William Ervin, soloist. Mr. Ervin was accompanied at the organ by Donald Quay, who also played the traditional wedding marches.

Serving as matron of honor was Mrs. Harold Stice. The bridesmaids were Mrs. Fred Lytkien and Miss Jeannette Fitzsimmons, sisters of bridegroom.

Their gowns were styled identically and featured sweetheart necklines and fullness over the hips. Mrs. Stice's gown was of a warm peach shade, Mrs. Lytkien's of a delicate green, and Miss Fitzsimmons' dawn blue. All three wore matching lace mitts and bands of daisies in their hair. They carried colonial bouquets of mixed flowers.

The small flower girl, Barbara Allen, was attired in a floor-length gown of pale blue organdy. Her headpiece was similar to that worn by the honor attendants. Johnny Warga, the ring bearer, wore an Eton suit of white gabardine.

The best man was Harold Stice. Robert Pennell, Newton Wallace and Wayne Fitzsimmons, brother of the bridegroom, were groomsmen.

A period gown of Magnolia satin was worn by the bride. The gown featured a shadow-sheer yoke of net, long sleeves which tapered to points over the wrists, and a pleated peplum which formed a bustle at the back. The long, flowing skirt terminated in a chapel train.

Carried Prayer Book. A halo-effect of pearlized orange blossoms held in place the fingertip veil of illusion tulle. She carried a white leather prayer book, topped with an orchid and tied with streamers of white satin.

Mrs. Stone chose for her daughter's wedding a dress of rose jersey, with which she wore accessories of black and white. The bridegroom's mother wore a black and white printed silk, with matching accessories. Both had corsages of gardenias.

Following the wedding a reception was given in the banquet room of the Dunlap hotel, where 150 guests were received. Appropriate musical selections were furnished by Mr. Ervin and Mr. Quay.

A three-tiered wedding cake was cut first by the couple and then served to the guests. Assisting with the serving were Mrs. Everett Allen, Mrs. Maynard Pennell and Mrs. Robert Pennell.

As the couple left upon a wedding trip to Lake Taneycomo in the Ozarks, Mrs. Fitzsimmons was wearing a black print, with matching accessories and an orchid corsage.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Fitzsimmons are graduates of Jacksonville high school. For the past four years, Mrs. Fitzsimmons has been employed in the office of the Sears, Roebuck store. Her husband served in the army for five years and held the rank of captain at the time of his discharge. He is now attending the St. Louis School of Pharmacy.

The couple will reside at 340 East State street.

GRAIN TRADE LIGHT; RAIN AFFECTS CORN, WHEAT FOR SESSION

Chicago, June 21.—(P)—Weather news provided the background for most of the activity on the board of trade today. With rains every where from the wheat territory of the southwest through the mid-west corn belt, little buying enthusiasm could be developed in grains.

Corn, most affected by the weather, lost a cent or more at times. Oats were easy, but frequently got back to around the previous close. Wheat showed a steady undertone most of the session, although losing ground toward the close. Trading was fairly light.

Receipts were: wheat 70 cars, corn 157, oats 42 and soybeans 14.

Wheat closed 1-1/2 lower, July $2.31, corn was 1-1/2 lower, July $2.20 1/2, and oats were unchanged to 1 lower, July 94 1/2. There was no trade in soybeans.

No Unanimous Choices Remain In Balloting For All-Star Nines

Ted Williams and Joe DiMaggio, dropped from the unchallenged ranks in the Journal Courier All-Star baseball poll Monday, leaving 26 unanimous choices of fans in this area. Platt, Browns' left fielder, got one vote to break Williams' spell while Scott Evers of Detroit and Lehnner of St. Louis each got a vote for center fielder where DiMaggio had resigned supreme for almost a week.

Another heavy vote was recorded Monday, with Chicago Cubs fans again coming through to poll a heavy total for their favorite.

Again there were a few changes in the leaders. Biggest advance was made by George McQuinn, New York Yankees' first baseman. Showing only one vote before Monday's balloting, he was counted, McQuinn jumped into first place over Vernon of the Washington Senators and six other contenders. Tommy Holmes of Boston and Ems Slaughter of St. Louis continued their battle for National League right fielder. The two were tied Saturday, but Holmes moved one vote ahead yesterday. Andy Pafko of Chicago moved out in the National third baseman race, passing Pittsburgh's Gustin.

Richy Ashburn, Philadelphia Phillies' center fielder, and Hal Jeffcoat, the Cubs' rookie, stayed about even in their race, polling an equal number of new votes. Jeffcoat continues in front by five.

Chicago, June 21. — (P) — First baseman George McQuinn of the New York Yankees and third baseman Bob Elliott of the Boston Braves were new leaders in today's nation-wide balloting for the All-Star game personnel.

McQuinn wrested the American League first-base lead from Washington's Muley Vernon, 14,748 first team votes to Vernon's 13,264.

In the National League's third base voting, Elliott moved ahead of Frankie Gustin of the Pittsburgh Pirates by 364 votes, 14,327 to 13,963.

Robinson-Docusen Fight Is Again Postponed

Chicago, June 21. — (P) — The Ray "Sugar" Robinson-Bernie Docusen fight for the world's welterweight championship Monday was postponed until next Monday night.

Threatening rain and Robinson's failure to make the regulation 147 pounds forced the postponement.

The 15-round battle had been set for Comiskey Park, home of the Chicago White Sox, Monday night.

Robinson, the champion, showing up half an hour late for the weighing-in, pleaded that he did not have sufficient time to regain the 147 pound notch. He said he weighed 151½, but unofficially it was said he was four pounds over that figure.

He refused to get on the scales, while Docusen, the boxing wizard from New Orleans, tipped an even 147.

George Gainford, Robinson's manager, agreed to post an additional $4,000 as a guarantee that the title holder will make the prescribed weight by noon Monday. He said Robinson was 147 pounds last Thursday, when the bout was first postponed by rain. He insisted his fighter should not be required to step on the scales again.

Otis Gulgolt, a co-manager of Docusen, after insisting that Robinson's title should be vacated, accepted the postponement mainly because threatening weather made it doubtful if the bout could be fought. Clark refused to vacate Robinson's title, under the circumstances.

XXXXX

SHE looked up and met Tom's grave, blue eyes. "What is it?" he asked, quietly. "Something you want to tell me, Jess?"

She nodded. Now was the moment. Get it over with, she told herself; the rest will be easy. She could not meet Tom's eyes. She fumbled with her napkin.

She said, "You probably know—where you were this afternoon? No, I don't know. I suppose you met someone. I don't intend to pry into your affairs, Jess, but I'm not exactly stupid. We've had so little opportunity to discuss our future since I came back. I've hoped—" His voice faltered.

"I know. I'm sorry." He pushed back his chair. "Look, Jess. I know a lot more about life than I did when I left you more than two years ago. I came home thinking things would be different." He smiled wryly. "Instead I found them worse. Mom ill, Lucy gone, you indifferent."

That was putting it mildly, she thought. She said, "I tried." He shook his head. There was no softness in his eyes now. "You didn't try enough."

Her cheeks flamed. Her dark eyes were brilliant with anger. "What do you mean?"

"This," Tom stood up. He towered above her. "You wanted me," he said bluntly, "like I wanted you. I hadn't believed that, I wouldn't have begged you to marry me. You and I shared something, we loved each other. We didn't have much time then to sort out reasons. We had only a few hours to spend together."

"I was young. I didn't know—" His eyes hardened. "You didn't know that I was poor, or was it that you didn't understand poverty? I thought love would fix all that. I wasn't without blame. I was narrow-minded and stubborn. My folks meant the whole world to me. I thought Mom and Lucy perfect. I thought they'd take care of you, keep you safe while I was gone. I didn't understand women. I never knew many girls—just Lucy."

SHE felt a little shiver of dread. Suppose Tom knew? How could she ever tell him? "I love Lucy," she said. "She was kind and generous."

"She would be. When Lucy comes home, everything will be all right."

No, she thought miserably, not everything. She said, "Tom, you can't understand. I never had to work. I didn't understand pinching and saving. I hated it. I wanted to be independent and take a job and be free to do as I pleased."

"No one can do as he pleases. Did I want to go away and fight? Lose three years out of my life? Did I look forward to a homecoming like this?"

There was no answer to this, and Jessica attempted none. She got up and began to collect the dishes. Why continue a discussion that brought only heartache?

After Tom left the table, Jessica realized that they had reached no definite conclusion about their future. Was it consideration for Tom that made her hesitate to tell him outright that she loved David Gregory and planned to marry him? Was there another reason which she refused to face? Doubt? Of herself—David?

She went about her work, washing dishes, turning out lights, then going upstairs to say good night to Betsy. The door to her room stood open. The lights were out in the bedroom; only the hall lamp shone across the rug, showing Tom seated beside the baby's crib, holding her chubby hand, his blond head bent, too absorbed to notice Jessica's presence.

Every day she remained here made the parting more difficult, thought Jessica wretchedly. Now was the time to tell Tom that she no longer loved him and planned to marry another man. Fairness to David demanded that she speak. Only her own weak, cowardly heart held her back again, made her turn and run downstairs, unwilling to remain another instant watching Tom and the baby, knowing that pity could destroy all that she and David had planned together.

RIGHT now she must tell Tom, Jessica decided, as she sat in the living room listening for his step in the upper hall.

Why did life have to be so complicated, she thought sadly, and dropped her head in her hands. When she looked up Tom stood in the room.

He said, "What is it, Jess? I think I know. You can leave whenever you wish to leave."

She was confused. She could think of only one thing. "What about Lucy?" she asked.

He said, "What about Lucy?" She found herself telling him her fears. The words stumbling, her tongue hesitating to utter her suspicion that the girl who lay in the hospital might be Tom's sister. She told him about the sale of her ring and her belief that Hugh Linton had bought the ring and had given it to Lucy.

Tom's face whitened. His blue eyes were hard and cold. "Why didn't you tell me this before?" he demanded.

"I didn't want to hurt you." Tom turned on his heel and was in the hall. He dialed a number. His voice was curt. "City Hospital?"

Jessica ran into the hall and stood beside him. Tom asked a few questions. Could he come at once? See this girl? Important information. . . The words rang through her aching head. Tom planned to go.

He put back the receiver. "Stay with Mother while I'm gone," he said. "I'm going to prove to myself that you are wrong. If you are, I'll never forgive you this insult to my sister."

The front door slammed behind him. (To Be Continued)

By Hal Boyle
Philadelphia — (AP)—Convention highlights:

A new surprise compromise ticket to lead the Republican party to presidential victory after 16 fabled years was proposed today by Henry Louis Mencken.

"I'm in favor of a ticket with Herbert Hoover for president and Alf Landon for vice president," said Baltimore's peppery literary sage.

"Hoover is the buggy, and Landon is the horse."

When it was pointed out to him by an innocent bystander that he was putting the cart before the horse, Mencken, who doesn't think the "horse and buggy days" were as bad as some people paint them, said:

"That might be a good idea today."

Sprightly in a blue polka dot tie, dark blue coat and light seersucker trousers, Mencken said he had attended his first national political convention in 1904 and that he had "come back from the grave after eight years" to see this one.

"I figure this will be my last one," he smiled with his usual cheery cynicism. He will be 68 this year.

"I don't know who'll get the nomination. But these conventions are all the same. They don't vary by one per cent. All bla-a-ah."

"Dewey's improved a lot. He speaks the best English of any man in public life today."

But Mencken immediately retreated into the shell which marks him as one of the most non-partisan men at the convention.

"I really am completely neutral," he grinned. "I'm against 'em all."

One of the first things you notice at a convention is the "lobby look." This is a kind of frozen-faced grimace of welcome which people wear when being introduced to other people while they are looking around for still more important people.

It is a "lobby look" because that is where you see it most often—in hotel lobbies. It can be worn with courtesy better by men delegates than by women.

The reason is simple. When one man greets another here, both can clap each other on the back and still look over the other fellow's shoulder for some person he would rather see. Women, being prisoners of an older convention, polite rather than political, can't do that. The feminine version of the "lobby look" is a creased face that says "howdy do" and a wandering eye that says "where are you—the one I'd rather be with?"

I suppose this is the oldest joke in the Republican party. But it is going around the convention, and I set it down for the young and pure in heart who, like myself, have never heard of it. The story:

A member of a southern delegation was asked who his group stood for. He replied:

"Some of us is for Dewey, some of us is for Taft—but all of us is for sale."

There are those here who believe that Senator Arthur Vandenberg will take the presidential nomination he hasn't—so far—contended for but has never disclaimed. There are a lot of people who have this belief, including the senator's son.

One of his supporters told me an interesting incident.

Some months ago Senator Vandenberg's wife underwent an operation in a Grand Rapids hospital. The worried statesman sweated out the ordeal in a park across the street.

A bum sat down on the bench by him. Vandenberg, ripping open his collar in his lonely nervousness, said:

"Listen, come here. I want to talk to you for half an hour."

The bum listened. Afterward he said, "I know who you are, senator."

Vandenberg then explained the situation and his worry over how his wife was faring under the surgeon's knife. The bum shook his head. He was against operations.

"It's a great mistake, senator," he said, disapprovingly. "There's nothing that whisky won't cure."

Funds Authorized To Repair Levees In Scott County

Congressman Sid Simpson of Carrollton has been assured in a communication from Maj. Gen. R. C. Crawford, acting chief of engineers, that repairs on two Scott county drainage and levee districts "will be undertaken as expeditiously as practicable."

The repairs on the protective structures were recently approved after a survey by Col. Rudolph E. Smyser, Jr., district engineer, St. Louis, and Col. Clark Kittrell, division engineer of the Upper Mississippi Valley.

Both the Big Swan and the Scott county drainage and levee districts were damaged by high waters in June, 1947. An allotment of funds sufficient to cover the levee setback and strengthening works needed in the two districts located on opposite sides of Walnut creek has been authorized, Gen. Crawford said.

McCormick Suggestion For Taft-Stassen Slate Causes Delegation Stir

BY LOUIS J. KRAMP
AP SPECIAL SERVICE
Philadelphia, June 21—(AP)—A suggestion by Col. Robert R. McCormick for a Taft-Stassen ticket sent Illinois delegates into hasty huddles tonight. But neither they nor Gov. Dwight H. Green changed their plans.

Green's staff, expressing surprise, said the governor will not comment publicly on the proposal.

Some delegates regarded the statement by the Chicago publisher, a delegate-at-large, as a strong move to throw the whole group into Taft's column in a second ballot.

The "Liberal Attraction"

They told a reporter they felt it was aimed at satisfying those Illinois delegates who think Taft is too conservative, and therefore were turning to Dewey. Some said Stassen might be the liberal attraction the pro-Dewey Illinoisans want.

Aids said Green, as head of the delegation, plans no further caucus action until after all the state's votes are cast for him as favorite son on the first ballot. Any action or Green views on McCormick's statement will come then—probably Thursday, behind closed doors.

A short-lived break by one delegate from the decision to vote solidly for Green on the first ballot also spurred Taft talk temporarily. But it appeared to be only a factional fuss, and the delegate soon changed his mind.

The Illinois crowd then went out to the convention hall to bask in the governor's keynote spotlight.

Expect Caucus Thursday

The developments, after an unanimous decision last night to give Gov. Dwight H. Green all 56 Illinois votes on the first ballot only, stopped at least temporarily widespread talk of Dewey gains in the delegation. No caucus action is expected until Thursday.

McCormick, editor and publisher of the Chicago Tribune, is a powerful voice in Illinois political policy. He has supported Taft for president and Green for a third term as governor. The Tribune has been critical of Dewey, Vandenberg, and Stassen.

But Stassen was a dinner guest at McCormick's Chicago home ten days ago. Both called it only a social affair. There has been virtually no Stassen sentiment in the Illinois delegation. It is split between Taft and Dewey, after favorite son support for Green.

One Illinois delegate, Roscoe Conklin Simmons of Chicago, rebelled openly against the decision for a solid-Green vote on the first ballot. Expressing opposition to Green, Simmons said he would vote all the way for Taft.

Changes Mind Later

A few hours later, however, Simmons changed his mind. He told a reporter he would vote for Green—but only on the first ballot. From there on, he said, he will be for Taft, and his decision to make the Green vote unanimous "is in the best interests of Senator Taft."

Simmons, a negro orator and writer, said he was disappointed by the caucus nomination of another negro, Valores Washington, to a place on the credentials committee. Washington is a Green state job appointee. Green leaders said they were sure Simmons would be pacified. They said it was a factional dispute that didn't mean any big movement toward Taft.

Illinois, third largest state unit, appears to have a pro-Taft majority. The rest—reckoned at between ten and 30—favors Dewey.

Sources close to Green said they expect the 56 delegates will vote as a unit until the third or fourth ballot. But some delegates predicted the group will show a Taft-Dewey crack on the second.

Provide Facilities For Joining Ranks Of National Guard

Captain Lawrence J. Quinlan announced late Monday evening that a representative of the local National Guard unit will be on duty at the American Legion Home on West College avenue all day today for the convenience of those youths who wish to enlist in the Guard. Captain Quinlan commands Company G, 123d Infantry, Illinois National Guard, stationed in Jacksonville.

On Monday Captain Quinlan received the following telegram from Col. G. B. Lahey, commanding officer of the 123d Infantry Regiment: "Pending President's signature on draft measure National Guard enlistees will not be subject to draft call. President may sign bill momentarily within ten days following passage last Saturday. Deadline approximately July 6, but observers predict signing before that time."

Although facilities for immediate physical examination and enlistment are limited in Jacksonville, Captain Quinlan stated that every effort will be made to assist those interested in joining the National Guard. Because a shortage of medical officers may cause difficulty in arranging for examinations, those who apply first will receive primary consideration, he said.

The recruiter on duty at the Legion home will provide information as well as making arrangements for physical examination and enlistment of those applying.
